Finding your Username or Student ID Number

You must already be an admitted student to set up your user ID and password. If you have not yet applied for admission, please do so at www.midmich.edu or at either campus.

From MidWeb’s main menu, select I’m New to MidWeb.

Then, as indicated in the Instructions, click on What’s My User Name or Student ID Number?

Enter your last name and EITHER your social security number OR your MMCC ID and Submit. The MMCC ID would be listed on your Student ID Card or any paperwork from MMCC such as Admissions or Financial Aid Award Letters.
MidWeb should then reveal your User Name and Student ID. You may click OK to return to the initial MidWeb screen.

If you receive an error message like those below, please try re-entering your information more carefully. If you’ve entered all of your information correctly, it could mean that you previously had an account that needs to be re-opened, for example if you applied or took courses through MMCC or the M-TEC in the past. It might also mean that your admissions application was missing some important information. To resolve these issues, please email enrollment@midmich.edu with your name, address, city, state, zip code, telephone number, birth date, email address, and your Student ID number. You will be notified via email when you have been given access to MidWeb.
